This pandemic might've caused your plans and timelines to go for a tailspin, but a little rejig will keep you in the race to the top

Legacy IAS's Plan

"One who fails to plan plans to fail"

This carefully thought through plan has emphasised on the fact that the Prelims 2021 has been postponed by more than 3 months. How an aspirant utilizes this time ultimately decides his berth in the Mains Examination and eventually the merit list.

The plan is SIMPLE, yet structuring is sophisticated as it had to be practical from every possible measure. One cannot have a plan which relentlessly expects you to spend 12-14 hours per day on studies. Such plans look great on paper, and fail miserably when you try to operationalise them.

Even as we devised this plan, recognition was given to the fact that the sight on Main examination should not be completely lost. This has been ingrained into the plan by factoring in those extra days. The plan entails targeting Mains exclusive subjects in the initial month alongside core Preliminary subjects. Underscoring the answer writing practice, essay writing practice and Ethics case studies, a weekly schedule for the same has been imbued.

The Formula to Success

Stress Management

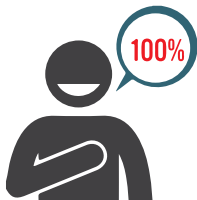

Time Management

Regularity

Interest

Dedication

Endurance

Why this is the “Most Practical” Plan?

Practicality in this plan has been attained by taking suggestions from an array of individuals - Administrators, Tutors and, most importantly, the students. All the elements which are considered to be the most crucial elements to elevate a plan to practicality have been carefully crafted and included. Here is a list of such elements, which you will come across even as you peruse this plan:

- ☒ Preliminary Tests – GS & CSAT
- ☒ Core Subjects
- ☒ Current Affairs
- ☒ Revision Space – For Tests, Core Subjects and Current Affairs
- ☒ Holidays
- ☒ Buffer Days To Make Up For The Lag
- ☒ Mains Exclusive Subjects
